... how to finance it—and Sears makes it easy for you every step of the way

Your Home Deserves a Modern Kitchen..

● for its good looks—

In many homes, "the most lived-in room in the house" is that friendly spot, the kitchen.

Mom, of course, spends many busy hours there—cooking meals, washing dishes, and maybe washing clothes, ironing, sewing as well. But often it's a favorite with all the members of the family, a place for work, for study, for visiting. And how many, many successful parties wind up in the kitchen!

Yes, everybody likes a kitchen. And more than any other room, your kitchen deserves to be a nice one—as pleasant, as pretty, as MODERN as you can possibly make it.

● for work-saving convenience—

Just as she is delighted with the looks of her modern kitchen, the homemaker is delighted with its convenience.

A well-planned kitchen makes her job easier, quicker, more efficient, more pleasant. Properly-placed cabinets and "work centers" save her miles and miles of walking.

Her modern kitchen is a joy to care for. The smooth surfaces whisk clean with a damp cloth; no dirt-catching, hard-to-get-at corners. And tight-fitting cabinet doors keep her china and glassware gleaming and dust free.

● for its investment value—

Some remodeling has to be "lived out." That is, if the owner decides to sell his house after remodeling, he normally expects to get back only part of the cost of the remodeling.

Not so with a modern kitchen!

Real-estate men everywhere agree on this one thing:

Nothing counts more toward a quick sale and a good price than a kitchen that's handsome, well equipped, modern.

Yes, for appearance . . . for comfort and convenience . . . for an investment that's sound as a dollar—give your home and your family the kitchen they deserve.

and it should be a Harmony House kitchen because only Sears offers all these advantages:

It's Easy to Plan Your Kitchen

Here's how you can draw your own kitchen plans by following these easy steps

1. Make a rough sketch of your kitchen on plain paper showing the walls and location of doors, windows, lights, electric outlets, etc.

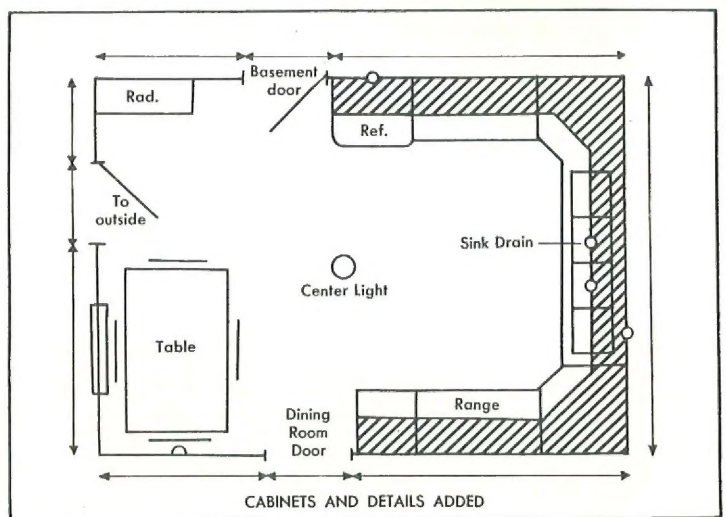

2. Measure from corner and 36 in. above floor. Use steel tape or yardstick. Mark down all measurements...windows, doors, etc. on sketch.

3. Re-draw the floor plan to scale (such as 1/2-inch to a foot). Draw in the major items: sink, range, refrigerator scaled to size.

4. Look through the following pages for the cabinets and equipment you want in your kitchen. Check over the sizes and styles you need.

5. Now, draw in the base cabinets that will fit in between the sink, refrigerator and stove on your scaled floor plan. Locate the corner unit first if you are using a "U" or "L" shape arrangement. Next draw in the wall cabinets (as indicated by shaded area). Fillers can be used in odd-size spaces to give custom-effect installations.

.. just follow these simple rules

Arrange storage, cooking and clean-up areas in "step-saving triangle" as shown in 4 kitchen plans at left (your kitchen will be a modified version of one of these basic types). For top efficiency, over-all measurement of "triangle" should not be over 21 feet.

1 Store-and-mix Center

Build your first work center around the refrigerator, where groceries are delivered and perishable foods are stored until used.

For canned goods, dry cereals, flour, sugar, and the like, plan cabinets above and to the side of the refrigerator, with counter space for mixing foods, and for under-counter storage of bread and cake, for mixer, food chopper, bowls and equipment.

2 Cook-and-serve Center

As any good cook knows, plenty of storage space around the range is a blessing. Plan enough wall cabinets to hold spices, tea, serving and baking dishes, and so on.

Allow for counter space—on both sides of the range, if possible—to set cooked food, and to dish it up for the table. Locate near dining area.

Plan storage space in the work bases for pots and pans, skillets, roaster, waffle iron, and toaster.

3 The Sink Center

Here the average housewife spends two out of every three hours she works in the kitchen! For this spot, plan plenty of wall-cabinet and workbase space.

You'll need cabinets for dinnerware, for canned goods, dried fruits and vegetables. You'll need counter space on both sides of the sink—for doing dishes and fixing foods that call for water.

In the workbases, you'll want room for vegetables and fruits such as potatoes, onions, oranges and bananas . . . cleaning supplies . . . dish drainer . . . juicers, saucepans, coffee pots, double boiler . . . for dozens of small utensils such as measuring cups, etc.

OTHER CENTERS, if the kitchen is big enough, could be a separate menu-planning center, an extra center for food freezing, laundering, or for eating—a breakfast bar, table and chairs, or dining lounge.

If you need expert help, Sears Free Planning is available

Here's How to Install Your New

Follow these 4 basic rules

FIRST, locate position of all wall studs where cabinets are to hang. This may be done by tapping lightly with a hammer. Studs are usually a standard distance apart. Location of the first one or two allows you to measure over for the balance. Mark position of studs so that cabinets can be attached to them.

SECOND, find the highest point on the floor. This may be accomplished with a spirit level or by simply dropping a marble and letting it roll. This is very important for both base cabinet and wall cabinet installation. If the floor covering is to be removed, find the high point after this has been done.

THIRD, using a spirit level or a straight edge, find the high spots along the wall where cabinets are to be installed. Very often these high spots may be sanded down; possibly even removed. The more level you can make your wall the less shimming you will have to do when it comes to installing your cabinets.

FOURTH, measure up the wall from the highest point of your floor (using a steel tape measure), to the point where you desire the top edge of your wall cabinets. This will generally be somewhere between 81 inches and 84 inches, depending on your preference. Next draw a horizontal line along the wall at this point.

Start your installation with the base cabinets . .

1. Remove the base board from all walls where your new HARMONY HOUSE cabinets are to be installed. This will allow them to go flush against the wall and make for a good looking custom kitchen job.

2. Start your base cabinet installation with a corner unit or at the end of a straight run of cabinets. Slide it into place and then continue by sliding all of the base cabinets into their proper positions against the wall.

3. Fasten the base cabinet frames together just back of the leading edge. This may be done with screws for wood cabinets, and with bolts for steel or wood-on-steel cabinets. Drawers should be removed during this operation.

4. Using a spirit level, check the position of each cabinet from front to back. Do this for each cabinet individually to find the high and low points of the floor. Next, shim for a perfect base cabinet installation.

5. Repeat the leveling process as in step 4, but along the leading edge. Then continue with your shimming until all cabinets have been brought to an absolute level. Now your base cabinet installation is completed.

6. Fit the counter top into position on your base cabinets, then attach it to top of the cabinets. Cover the counter top so that it may be protected while wall cabinets are being installed. (Cabinet cartons may be used.)

Correct use of shims to level uneven floors and walls is important

Base Cabinets

Concave and convex floor corrections are shown below

Few floors or walls are level, but don't be alarmed. Shims, (wedge-shaped pieces of wood), may be used to correct this situation.

Wall Cabinets

Corrective shimming from the wall illustrated below

Complete the job with wall cabinets

7. After determining the height of your wall cabinets—probably 15 inches to 18 inches above the counter top—some type of brace or support should be made to hold or rest wall cabinets on while fastening them in place.

8. As with the base cabinets, your installation should start with a corner cabinet, or the end of a run of wall cabinets. This is extremely important as this cabinet becomes the key cabinet in your whole installation.

9. Fit the adjoining wall cabinets on the wall. They may be temporarily nailed or screwed loosely so that leveling may be accomplished without removing them. You may join and fasten them as a continuous unit.

10. Use a spirit level to check the horizontal surface of each cabinet frame. Shim at the wall if necessary until each cabinet has been leveled. Doors will not fit correctly unless this is done for every wall cabinet.

11. Check the perpendicular surface of each frame at the front. If it is not plumb, place thin wood shims between cabinets. Now you permanently attach your cabinets to the wall by tightening the screws or driving in the nails.

12. If you are using 30-inch high wall cabinets you can customize your job by building a "soffit," or boxed-in area, extending from the top of the cabinets to the ceiling. It may be painted, papered or tiled, as you desire.
